ABOUT ME

As an experienced educator with over twenty years experience in International Schools. I have learned alongside the children, parents and teachers in my classrooms and workshops. I believe strongly that what we know to be true for young learners also holds true for adult learners. As such, any professional development session must build on prior knowledge, ensure the learner has agency as well as be practical and active. With my passions for curriculum coordination, the Early Years, leadership, the PYP framework, the philosophies of Reggio Emilia as well as early language and literacy development I offer a wide range of support through professional development workshops and coaching sessions. I work in close collaboration with schools to bolster the enthusiasm and expertise of their staff whilst ensuring sustainable growth towards future goals.
